

STICKY PROSPECT

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

OVERVIEW

Sticky Prospect is an online sales prospecting service billon on a rolling subscription model.

FREE TRIAL

Customers of Sticky Prospect are entitled to a free 30 day trial with no obligation to subscribe to the service.

LICENCE

Upon expiration of the free trail, customers of Sticky Prospect will be required to subscribe to the service in order to continue to access their data and continue using the service. Three licencing models are available as follows

SINGLE USER MONTHLY

Single user licenses may agree to a monthly recurring payment administered by Barclays ePDQ system.

CORPORATE CUSTOMERS

Corporate customers will be invoiced by an account manager at an agreed rate.

CANCELLATION

Sticky Prospect customers may cancel online at any time and the software shall continue to function until their next renewal date. No refunds shall be issued pro rata for the licenced period remaining.

DATA

The customer may request a copy of their data at any time, in writing, which will be delivered to the customer within 14 days of Sticky Prospect receiving the request.

DISCLAIMER

Sticky Prospect will take all reasonable measures to ensure the security, availability and backup of the software system and data, however by accepting this agreement the customer accepts that Sticky Prospect Limited will not be held responsible for any loss of business due to their customers becoming unable to access their data or the service. Sticky Prospect also reserve the right to reasonably change the functionality in the service or cancel an account.

These terms and conditions are subject to change from time to time. Customers will be informed of any change by email and will have the option to discontinue the use of the service should they choose.